THE WEAR ON BRAIN, MUSCLE AND SOUL.

The getting out of a newspaper 365 days in every year is an avocation that wears upon the brain and muscle and soul of those whose duty it is to get the paper out—Brenham Banner-Press.
Oh, Lord, how true this is! Its full truth and meaning is not known and cannot be known to any, except those who, through long years, have been broken on the wheel of journalism.
Long years of ceaseless toil and endeavor for city, county, state, and the public welfare. Labor that is not appreciated; effort that passes unrecognized—truly "love's labor lost." A life void of the plenteousness of this world's goods, sterile and bare of the world's pleasures. Bereft of that bou-quancy of spirit which paints high in the arched heavens, in primrose colors the "bow of promise." Soothed and sustained by that one and only hope, that when "30" has gone up, and the forms forever closed, you will be able to say with one of old, "I have fought a good fight; I have finished my course, I have kept the faith; henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness."

An editor who started about twenty years ago with 50 cents is now worth $100,000. His accumulation of wealth is due to his frugality, good habits, strict attention to business and to the fact that an uncle died and left him $99,999.—Exchange.

Now, what is the use of misleading statements? First of all, no editor starts with a capital of 50 cents; we can prove it. Either he has a good bank account or else nothing—absolutely nothing. Second, no man, woman, old maid or bachelor is going to die, with the full knowledge that the estate valued at $99,999 is to be left to the editor. Take it from us, they'll live, they'll live until the editor and his kind are gone, and then they'll live some more.—La Grange Journal.

"Twas ever thus from childhood's hour,
We've seen our fondest hopes decay;
The rich kin we thought to die tomorrow,
Lives forever and ever, and a day.

Bryan has got the spondulix salted down to pay for the paving of Main street, and we are going to be lifted out of the mud. Glory, hallelujah!

HIT THE WRONG DOG.

The following "hard luck" story is going the rounds of the press, and is worthy of repetition.

"I shot an arrow in the air; it fell in the distance, I knew not where, till a neighbor said it killed his calf, and I had to pay him six and a half.

Bought some poison to kill the rats, and a neighbor said it killed his cats; and rather than argue across the fence, I paid four dollars and fifty cents.

One night I set sailing a toy balloon, and hoped it would soar till it reached the moon; but the candle fell out on a farmer's straw, and he said I must settle or go to law.

And that is the way of the random shot, it never hits the proper spot; and the joke you may spring that you think so smart may leave a wound in some fellow's heart."

Quite a little muss and fuss has been raised by a certain class of newspapers in Texas because the picture of Sam Houston was recently removed from the capitol at Austin, and a picture of former Senator Bailey hung in its place. They have made themselves hoarse and the whole country sick yelling "desecration," "disgrace," et cetera.
The truth is the Houston picture did not belong to the State at all, but to the artist who painted the Bailey picture, and he simply removed his own property and hung the Bailey picture in its place, which had been presented to Texas by some of Mr. Bailey's friends. Such a tempest in a tea pot.

The country is now operating under a Democratic tariff, the first since 1894, and the lowest in seventy-five years. Let it be given a fair trial, an honest trial. It is claimed that the oppression of high prices is to be laid at the door of the trusts and combines, and that a high protective tariff is the mother of the trusts. The Democratic party believes the downward revised bill now in force and effect will break up entirely, or greatly hamper the action of the trusts, lower the cost of living and bring that general and equitable relief so long desired.

If there are those who do not believe it costs money and lots of it to maintain our standing army, let them be disillusioned by the fact that it requires $400,000 a month to pay the officers and soldiers stationed at Galveston and Texas City. This is for salaries alone, to say nothing of board, clothes, horse feed, repair bills and the thousand and one other expenses.

If the Democratic tariff bill does all that is expected of it, it will be going some. There are people who will be disappointed if they cannot from now on get a Stetson hat for $1.49, a pair of Edwin Clapp shoes for $2.13, a thirty-five dollar suit for $14.66 2-3, a twenty-pound ham for two plunks, a porterhouse steak an inch thick for a dime, and a bell-top schooner for a nickel.

Bryan's Main street is to be illuminated by arc lights. Isn't that glorious? Gradually we are laying aside every weight that hath long beset us and running the race before us to reach the proportions of an up-to-date little city.

Good evening, have you been hook-wormed yet?

Every time a girl goes away from home she has a perfectly lovely time.

If a man is always making new friends it's a sign his old friends are on to him.

What has become of the old-fashioned woman who had a bad omen for every dream?

Before attempting to make a name for herself a girl should learn to make bread.

Some wives feel the need of an excuse for being married, and some spinsters for not being.

It's up to you either to take things as they come, or turn your back and let them meander by.

Nothing jolts a woman more, when she tells another woman something that has been told her in confidence, than to learn that the other woman knows all about it.
